Mission Statement

National Cybersecurity Institute at Excelsior College (NCI) is a training and research institute located in Washington, D.C. dedicated to assisting government, industry, military and academic sectors meet the challenges in cybersecurity policy, technology and education.

Dr. Jane LeClair
Chief Operating Officer
National Cybersecurity Institute at Excelsior College

Founding Editor in Chief
National Cybersecurity Institute Journal
National Cybersecurity Institute Training Programs

National Cybersecurity Institute at Excelsior College (NCI) is a training and research institute based in Washington, D.C. dedicated to increasing knowledge of the cybersecurity discipline and meeting workforce demands.

National Cybersecurity Institute’s professional training programs help you increase or enhance your current cybersecurity skills or prepare for a new career through training or preparation for certification. Qualified instructors who are leaders in their field provide highly practical courses preparing you for the workforce. Convenient courses make it easy to learn on your own time or face-to-face.

National Cybersecurity Institute is a ISC(2) Certified training partner and a CompTIA training partner.

For more information please visit NCI’s website: www.nationalcybersecurityinstitute.org/training/

Objective
The primary objective of the National Cybersecurity Institute’s cybersecurity training programs is to transform civilians and military personnel with basic computer literacy skills into trained professionals ready for entry-level positions within cybersecurity.

Flexible Programs
Whether you are an experienced IT professional or new to the cybersecurity field and seeking a new career, the National Cybersecurity Institute’s cybersecurity training programs offer the right courses to assist you in accomplishing your cybersecurity goals or attain and maintain existing cybersecurity certifications. We offer flexible training options to groups, private companies and federal, state, and local government agencies.

Training Courses
National Cybersecurity Institute offers a wide variety of noncredit cybersecurity training courses ranging from very basic security skills to advanced certification preparation classes.

Courses are offered online, at your site or at the National Cybersecurity Institute.

Certifications:
- Certified Information Systems Security Professional (CISSP) Preparation
- Certified Ethical Hacker (CEH)
- CompTIA Security+

Cybersecurity Courses:
- Cybersecurity for Healthcare
- Cybersecurity for Nuclear Power
- Cybersecurity for Small Business
- Cybersecurity for Emerging Leaders
- Cybersecurity for the C-Suite
- Chief Information Security Officer (CISO)
- Open Source Intelligence
- Medical Intelligence Awareness

Ask for a full listing of courses and programs

Contact Us
Dr. Jane LeClair
Chief Operating Officer
National Cybersecurity Institute at Excelsior College
2000 M Street NW, Suite 500
Washington, D.C. 20036
nci@excelsior.edu